

Sharing that turns into memories

The Idea

If someone shares any food item with you the food that you shared for the very first time, and you meet that person again after some years and you share something with that person again it would change into the food item that you shared at first time and will start to change into multiple colours with your past memories with that person.

Example

Short Description

This is a chocolate that shows all the features of that were mention in the idea

